

QUESTIONS AND RESPONSES

Numbers 63-66

63. Please provide the number of current site employees who are represented by the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers (IAMAW) by the occupational groups as set forth in Appendix A to the Agreement between WVNSCO and IAMAW.

Answer: The numbers of current site employees who are represented by the IAMAW are listed by occupational groups in the Incumbent Workforce Breakdown document posted on the web page at the Workforce Breakdown and Pay and Benefits link in Reference Documents. The titles of the labor categories are aligned to the titles of the occupational groups as set forth in Appendix A to the Agreement between WVNSCO and IAMAW.

64. Please explain what the cause is for the Fringe rate (applied to incumbents) to decrease significantly from year one to year four?

Answer: The decrease in the fringe benefits rate was a result of decreasing pension liabilities stated by the most recent actuarial report.

65. DEAR Clause 952-204-2 Security, is an included clause in the contract. Is there any classified information or data involving "Special Nuclear Material" included in the PWS activities. If not, why is the DOE specifically including this clause?

Answer: The RFP, invokes DEAR 952.204-2 which requires that contractors duly protect classified information, special nuclear materials and other DOE property. The scope of work covered by the RFP does not involve classified information or accountable special nuclear materials; however, some protective force personnel (both prime and subcontractor) have access authorizations in order to maintain their armed Security Police Officer qualification. Therefore, the DEAR 952-204-2 is applicable in order to maintain access authorizations. Please refer to DOE's response to Question 11 for additional information.

66. Will DOE please provide copies of any approved or submitted Waste Incidental to Reprocessing Determinations for the West Valley Site pertinent to the execution of the PWS for this contract and place them on the Reference Documents section of the solicitation website?

Answer: There are no approved or submitted WIR determinations available for posting.
